What module solves

9 out of 10 of our customers expressed a desire to simplify their invoicing process. So, we listened, identified recurring patterns, and designed a simple, intuitive interface for the Receivables Management module.

No time wasted on customization – within 5-7 days of purchase, you'll be using the ready-to-go module. It reduces routine, manual work for both your and your customers' accounting, finance, or operations teams by minimizing manual processes, supported by helpful built-in automations. It also removes the need for constant back-and-forth communication with clients about open invoices and payments.

Module and Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central

The screenshot displays the 'Receivables Management' module interface. It features a sidebar with filters for document date, due date, document type, and open status. The main area shows a table of financial ledger entries with columns for document date, document type, number, description, amount, and remaining amount. A blue 'Export to Excel' button is visible above the table. The interface also includes a search bar, a user profile dropdown, and a 'Show results (132)' button.
